

Commitment definition

A commitment is the honoring of a decision. When you are committed, you allow nothing to deter you from reaching your goal. You are disciplined even when you are not feeling motivated. Discipline is the ability to carry out a resolution long after the mood has left you. Making a commitment is being willing to put forth all your effort and taking responsibility for the outcome.